

SAVE BASTION POINT

Bastion Point, Mallacoota is a natural treasure in the heart of Victoria's coastal wilderness.

Bastion Point is under serious threat of being destroyed by a large breakwater and boatramp development.

The proposed development will:

- blast away the rocky reef to lodge a 130mt breakwater
- bury the beach under thousands of tons of rock to build a road
- destroy a great surf break
- clear large areas of fragile coastal vegetation
- threaten Aboriginal heritage sites

Despite an EES inquiry that strongly recommended against the breakwater development, Planning Minister Madden has given the East Gippsland Shire Council permission to proceed!

Bastion Point needs your help!

Lobby the government and your local MPs , write letters, make phone calls, tell others and visit our website for more information.

Bastion Point as it may look by the end of 2010 - based on the approved concept plans
